MICHAEL DIAMOND

PARTNER

Professional Background

Michael Diamond represents natural gas pipeline companies and electric utilities before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) and federal courts of appeals. Michael provides comprehensive FERC regulatory advice and counsel to natural gas pipeline companies on rate and tariff matters under the Natural Gas Act, as well as pipeline certificate and abandonment proceedings. He also assists pipeline clients with compliance, complaints, enforcement and rulemaking proceedings before FERC and with litigation before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit. Michael also is advising the Clean Hydrogen Future Coalition regarding issues related to the development of interstate hydrogen pipelines, including the federal regulation of hydrogen transportation.

Michael also leads the firm's "inmate assistance program," which helps incarcerated individuals seeking release from prison. Michael obtained compassionate release for an inmate in 2021.

Representative Experience

- Representing major pipeline companies in rate cases filed under sections 4 and 5 of the Natural Gas Act and achieving favorable settlements.
- Representing a natural gas pipeline company to obtain dismissal of a complaint that alleged undue discrimination in process of awarding pipeline capacity.
- Assisting pipeline companies to modernize their FERC gas tariffs to facilitate natural gas transportation agreements.
- Conducting regulatory due diligence for clients interested in liquefied natural gas (LNG) export facilities and addressing risks in obtaining authorizations required pursuant to energy and environmental laws.
- Assisting companies in seeking authorization to construct and operate interstate natural gas pipelines, navigating regulatory issues under the Natural Gas Act and National Environmental Policy Act, and defending those authorizations before federal courts of appeals.
- Acting as an interim in-house counsel for a major gas pipeline operator.
- Assisting District of Columbia prisoners requesting compassionate release from the D.C. Superior Court, as part of the firm's pro bono practice.
- Acted as interim in-house counsel for a major gas pipeline operator.
- Represented a major natural gas pipeline in the preparation of a complicated series of facility abandonment applications at the FERC.
- Assisting District of Columbia prisoners requesting parole from the U.S. Parole Commission, as part of the firm's pro bono practice.
